Meeting of School Board

The regular monthly meeting of Blairmore school trustees was held at the schoolhouse on Friday evening last. There were present Chairman Hamilton, members Chappell, Duth, McPhail and Beebe, and Secretary Harmer.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved.

The sum of $27.17 was received from Ex-Secretary F. Wright, being part of remittance made for taxes by Dr. McDonald, of Hillcrest. The balance of the doctor's remittance, $33.00, was retained by Mr. Wright as amount agreed upon and due him from the board, and for which Mr. Wright tendered a receipt.

An account for rent of Mission Hall for school purposes was read and passed.

A petition signed by ten or more ratepayers, asking that a meeting of ratepayers be called by the secretary for the purpose of discussing the district's affairs was read, and also a communication from the education department asking why the request had not been complied with in accordance with the provisions of the school ordinance. The secretary's reply to the departmental communication stated that such a meeting would be called at the earliest possible opportunity. The Secretary was instructed to call the meeting as requested.

Frank-Sanatorium Notes

"He's so hard on the Battle of Munk's Landing, Co."—the wedding of—Sandy McNab—but of another noble feat, a member of our proletariat? "Frankly sir, we are not sure."—the selfish fondly imagine that it is all a profound secret. He has been very busy in covering his tracks; but, bless you, what's the use—these things will tell. A romance, commenced during the war among the graves of the great military cemetery near Reims, France, and in the wards of No. 1 general hospital, culminated in a wedding in Calgary, when our versatile young friend departed on a leave of absence two weeks ago. A brief honeymoon trip to Banff and the Waterton Lakes followed—and then behold him among us again, tanned and brown, enthusiastically talking trout-fishing, but never a breath about the real news of the trip. So, therefore, it is with very great pleasure that we take this opportunity of making this announcement that congratulations and cheerful good wishes are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson.

That old one about petitioning the C.P.R. to adopt a noiseful whistle is supposed to be a joke; but what is no joke is the nocturnal yodeling and warbling of the nightingales of the road between the hours of one and four a.m. This practice, although no doubt providing comfort and company to the perpetrators, can hardly be recommended as a lullaby. We have no desire to spoil sport—still we would like to mildly suggest the use of a muffled or, even better yet, a maxim silencer, since a burst of staccato slow melody has all the soothing qualities of an angry machine gun.

Someone rashly asked our respectable mail carrier for his opinions on mail-order firms that issue catalogues. It was really surprising the things he found to say about them—quite an educational harangue, indeed. Jimmy ought to be on the Chautauqua.

The inhabitants of the west porch were greatly mystified one day last week to observe several of the troops performing a strange classical dance out in the tennis court. Each man "prowled" through the grass in a crouching position, wearing a tense expression on his face and making occasional wild snaps at the ground with his left hand. The theorist of the thing was that this was a new way of "working a ticket,"—but it has since been ascertained that it is really a method of catching grasshoppers. Hypnotism, perhaps?

If you want to hear some real fish stories, ask Chesson.

A Blairmore gentleman has collected the scalps of the checker demon, who has so long tormented our lads. It is to be hoped that unless will return to the eyes, and roost to the cheeks of those "hope deferred" to whom the matter has been a real worry.

Local Train Held

Up By Bandits

One of the most daring holdups in the history of Western Canada was perpetrated at a point about eight miles west of Blairmore on Monday afternoon, when the west-bound local in charge of Conductor Sam Jones was held up by three or four bandits, who had looked passage from Lethbridge to Fernie with evident purpose of lapping some individual supposed to have to board the train at some point in The Pass with considerable money for transfer to a firm's headquarters. The men were well-known characters, not only to the train officials, but to a large element of the general public and their actions have on different occasions been watched with suspicion. After leaving Coleman, the men located themselves at different parts of the train and at the point of guns ordered the conductor and train crew and passengers to "up dukes" while a search for money and valuables was effected. It is estimated that the entire loot would not exceed $700. The conductor was relieved of all his C. P. R. loose cash and a watch, which he had recently purchased and which he prized. Others of the crew and male passengers were relieved of smaller or larger amounts, but it was evident that the men had failed to connect with the real object of their raid. After going through the entire train the men dismounted at a point near Sentinel and made a clean getaway to the woods southwards. The wires were tapped and police and railway authorities were notified, but although a search has been instituted, no bandits have been sighted since by upwards of one hundred members of provincial and mounted police forces of both Alberta and British Columbia, who are assisted by a number of Kootenay Indians, no trace has yet been found of the desperadoes, and the police are now of the opinion that they have succeeded in crossing the international boundary into Montana.

Oddfellows To

Hold Big Picnic

Pass members of the 'Triple Links have decided to hold their annual basket picnic and sports at Crows' Nest Lake on Wednesday, August 25th, when it is hoped that the largest reunion of members and their families and friends will take place. It is expected that quite a number from points east to Lethbridge and west to Fernie will participate. A good program is being arranged and a brass band will be present during the day. Everyone is invited to come along on the 25th and bring their baskets.

A meeting of ratepayers of Blairmore School District is called to take place, on Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, at the school house, when matters of vital interest to the district will be discussed.

'Pal O' Mine'

What is sure to be an inspiration to native playwrights, to intelligent managers and to the battle-scarred theatregoers generally is the success which is being won by William P. Springer's comedy with music—PAL O' MINE—which will bring its tale of mirth, music, comedy and songs to the Blairmore stage next Thursday night.

It is doubtful if there is any show on the road today which contains as much comedy—clean, refined, comedy—music, songs and laughter, as that of 'Pal O' Mine'.

The critics are almost a trifle in declaring it a play on the very edge, if not actually over the very line, of genuine greatness. That in itself is remarkable, because, after all, critics, being only human beings, are subject to personal prejudices. That is applied so strongly to them is in itself an indication that on the whole the play is a masterpiece of the art of the story, its beauty of its treatment and its true dramatic worth will make

Canada's Interest In World Conditions

Six years have elapsed since Germany threw down the gauntlet to civilization and embarked upon her mad enterprise to dominate the world. Almost two years have passed since the signing of the armistice by which Germany acknowledged a humiliating defeat and made an abject surrender.

Yet the world is still in a state of political upheaval, with battles raging on many fronts and a state of war existing between nations of millions of people. Russia and Poland are at war; Greece and Turkey are still fighting, with the Greek armies advancing right into the heart of Turkey in Europe; British, French, Belgian and United States armies are yet in occupation of a large part of Germany; large bodies of British and French troops are constantly on guard in Mesopotamia and Syria. A recent visitor to Greece reports that martial law still prevails there, and that all the old war regulations and restrictions are in full force, and that thousands of Greeks are in the army who have been there since 1912 and cannot get out. The United States is still technically at war with Germany and Austria.

Are these things of any vital interest to Canada, and have they any bearing upon Canadian conditions? Most decidedly so. As long as such unsettled conditions exist, there is an ever present danger of a spark starting a general conflagration, and Canada, as a member of the League of Nations, has a duty to perform to the world and may conceivably be drawn into any new struggle.

That danger may be remote, but there is a phase of general world conditions, especially in Europe and Asia, which is affecting the welfare of the people of Canada every day, whether they are fully conscious of it or not. Millions of men still in uniform means millions of men drawn from productive work of all kinds, and an enormous strain upon the financial resources of all nations to maintain them and to keep the civilian population at home, their dependents, from starvation.

Such a condition throws upon all other countries, like Canada, the burden of the task of feeding and supplying the world with necessities. So long as the work of production remains so much smaller than the demand for goods produced, the era of shortage and high prices must continue. It means a continued influx of credit with all the evils that flow therefrom. It means that when the time of final readjustment comes there is increased danger of a panic which will shake the financial and industrial world to its very foundations.

Canada is interested in this situation. As a nation it is interested in endeavoring to the full extent of its powers and resources to meet the world demand for food and necessities of all kinds. It is a duty to owe to suffering mankind, but it is likewise an opportunity which should not be lost to secure a large share of the world's trade. The development of a large export trade is one of Canada's economic needs, and the present opportunity for such development should not be disregarded.

Canadians, as individuals, should likewise be interested in the prevailing world situation, and all that is pertinent for the future. The present is a time when not only should each individual be putting forward a maximum effort in their own, the Dominion's and the World's interests, but it is a time when the individual should earnestly strive to conserve the fruits of the labor and lay an adequate provision against the time when a "slump" will occur, industry be less active and remunerative than it is now, and the whole financial situation be "tightened up."

A general cry of "extravagance" is raised all round which is somewhat misleading. Undoubtedly a certain proportion of the population has enjoyed an increase in income in recent years more than sufficient to meet the increased cost of living; and they have been indulging in the purchase of luxuries. This increased demand for luxuries has led to a great demand for labor to produce such luxuries, and such labor has been drafted from industries primarily devoted to the production of necessities. For example, tens of thousands of skilled artisans formerly engaged in the manufacture of articles of actual necessity are now manufacturing automobiles by the thousands. As an inevitable result conditions are created which bear hardly on the less well-to-do.

The lesson for Canada is to get back as quickly as possible to essentials; to curtail the production, and purchase of luxuries and to speed up on essential necessities. In the second place, it will be the part of wisdom for the individual Canadian to conserve his earnings as far as possible, to save and thereby serve, not only his country, but himself.

Within Sight of the Day

Almost Within Sight of the Day When We Shall Import Foodstuffs

I wouldn't be surprised to see every automobile factory in this country closed in a year or two; also, every other factory devoted to the manufacture of luxuries. We are rapidly approaching a time when those willing to work must devote their time to necessities. The most conservative and intelligent observers say we are almost within sight of the day when we shall be compelled to import foodstuffs or starve. The present era of extravagance, high wages everywhere except on farms and short hours, actually means that the people of the United States have started in on a big propaganda to starve themselves.—Howe's Monthly.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of a Thomson's Electric Cold. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration, and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Conditions Will Surely Improve

Farmers Who Stick to the Job Will Come Out Ahead

We are very apt to forget that the things which are happening now were not produced by natural causes, but are a part of the terrible world upheaval we have been going through. The troubled waters cannot become calm again as soon as the storm ceases. The armistice ended the fighting and we are now going through the "rolly" troubled period which follows. The current which has taken and still is taking labor from the farm will just as surely bring it back when the waters settle again. In the meantime the farmer who sticks to the job and keeps pegging along the best he can is going to come out away ahead in the long run. Perhaps for the time being he can make a little more money than something else. How long is he sure that this something is going to last, and when it stops, what then? Perhaps this year he cannot get the help to raise as much as last year. He can be pretty sure, however, that he is going to get good prices for what he does raise. And in the meantime he is living of a good, comfortable home for himself and his family amid normal surroundings.

The Rolling Stone

Old Saying About the Rolling Stone And the Moss is Thrown in The Discard

Of the many popular fallacies to which the world still clings — and those persons who live a comparatively quiet life are among its most ardent advocates — none is given greater credence than set forth in the proverb which tells us "a rolling stone gathers no moss." To many it seems still as great a truth as it was thought to be when that forgotten long ago noted the smoothness of the stones tumbled by the surf along Hellenic shores, and like the objects from which he drew his figure, set the saying rolling down the centuries.

And then one of these long-pitied rolling stones crossed our ocean and discovered America. And a little more than two months of rolling to the West, he gathered more moss than all the rest of the world had picked up in as many centuries. Followed the Pilgrim Fathers to gather still more moss, or as Washington Irving has observed, to completely controvert the time-honored proverb.

Since that day a great portion of the world's peoples have been busy rolling, proving the utter fallacy of the saying. Today half the globe is a wheel gathering moss. Yet the warning lives on, is frequently quoted, largely believed in. But was it not ever fallacious? For, whether we interpret "moss" to mean tangible riches or pleasure's treasure; whether we paraphrase it to mean "gold" or "thoughts," the rolling stone has at all times and in all places had his reward. Indeed it was a stroll along the seashore—a more or less transient departure from his abode—when he caused that father of the proverb to first voice his thoughts.—Christian Science Monitor.

Australia's First German-Capture

Pilot Who Captured the First German Boat For Australia

Pilot Easton, who went from Melbourne to New Zealand to join H. M. S. Renown, which carried the Prince of Wales to the Antipodes, is a well-known figure in Australia. He figures in a war story which has just been released by the censorship. Some days after war broke out a big German steamer from Hamburg, which had no wireless, was signaled off the Melbourne Heads, and Easton went out to her and brought her in. He said nothing to the German captain about the war. When the ship was inside, off Portsea, and Easton could see a naval launch approaching, said to the captain, "We'll have to halt-speed here." The German, who knew the port well, asked, "Why, pilot, why?" and he stared an anxious eye on the launch. "Because Britain and Germany are at war," said Easton. The German, furious at being trapped, as he called it, was for turning around again and running for the entrance. But Easton pointed out a fort to him and assured him that the guns there were trained on the steamer. So the German succumbed, but his manner toward Easton was very threatening. Five minutes later the Australian bluejackets scrambled aboard. The steamer is now part of Australia's merchant fleet. Melbourne Argus.

Western Tour of Mackenzie King

Opposition Leader to Speak In the Principal Cities

While the details of the itinerary of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, in the western provinces have not been arranged, it is stated that his tour will occupy two months from the time of his departure from Ottawa until his return to the capital.

If present preliminary plans are adhered to, Mr. King will go through to the coast with but little delay, and do most of his speech-making on the return trip. Practically all the larger cities and towns will be covered before the tour terminates, about the middle of November. Subsequently Mr. King expects to do some speaking in the eastern provinces.

Home Teaching

Parents Should Strive to Impart Own Knowledge to Their Children

It is the privilege, the duty of all fathers and mothers to give their offspring the benefit of what they consider most worth while in their own life experience.

If the parent should attempt to avoid his duty in this matter he would but leave to other persons, perhaps totally unqualified for the task, the moulding of his child's opinions and beliefs.

Beyond doubt the radical agitators would like to have the children of the nation deprived of the home teaching, which they find an impassable barrier against their own poisonous propaganda.—New York Evening Sun.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Vateman, "Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and failing sight. I was down in bed for about six weeks. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that I was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I am now completely troubled with my heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Learning to Save

Millionaire Speaks of the Joy of Getting Ahead

Persons who have never practised thrift will find that the first $100 they save is the most difficult part of the undertaking, says W. S. Strauss, a millionaire many times over. After they have reached this amount they begin to reap the mental and financial benefits of their economy. They find themselves stronger and more easily able to resist the temptation to squander money. They begin to feel the joy of getting ahead. They gain a sense of stability and moral courage, which was not theirs before. They realize that at last they are on the right road. They are headed in the right direction. They are on their way to happiness and success.

Airplane as Carrier Of Disease

Could Easily Carry Insect Pests From Place to Place

Whoever would have imagined that the aeroplane would be attacked as a possible carrier of disease? Yet this is just what Professor H. Maxwell Lefroy did in a lecture at the Royal Institution (London). He says that the greatest carrier of pest-carrying insects was the aeroplane, which picked up insects, landed in a field, and deposited them, all within a few hours. The aeroplane was truly the disseminator of crop pests. During Dr. Chalmers Mitchell's flying trip through Africa, his aeroplane, while on the ground, had been attacked by white ants. The aeroplane could easily pick up the yellow fever breeding mosquito and bring it to another land within the space of a few hours. Tsetse fly, which rendered the African sleeping sickness, could be taken from West Africa to Brazil in a few hours. Among the insects the most to be dreaded was the chinch-bug, which in 1864 caused a loss of $74,000,000 worth of wheat.

Sinn Fein State Terms on Which Peace Can be Made

Dublin.—"Permanent peace can be arranged between Ireland and England on the basis of England explicitly accepting the first condition of peace laid down by President Wilson in New York on September 27, 1918, on the issues of the Great War," said Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, in discussing the Freeman's Journal suggestion that Ireland is ready to accept Dominion Home Rule. "In that speech, President Wilson said: 'The military powers of no nation shall be suffered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force.'"

"Peace on that basis," continued Mr. Griffith, "was arranged after a prolonged conflict between Switzerland and France by the treaty of Fribourg in 1516—that peace has since endured."

"The suggestion of the Freeman's Journal is more kite-flying. It speaks for nobody but itself. The Daily Eireann has elected delegates of the Irish people, willing to negotiate with England on equal terms, but it does not intend to be tricked into so often in the past. Eamonn De Valera has said the Sinn Fein would negotiate with England along the lines of the first section of the Platt amendment regarding Cuba. In fact, once free, it would be to Ireland's interests to be on friendly terms with England, her best customer. Had Ireland been independent in the late war she would have sided with England, because if England had been defeated it would have been Ireland's turn next. However, we are now a free nation, with our parliament and our courts in being."

Mr. Griffith said Viscount French Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, gave the whole policy of Great Britain away when he declared in January that the trouble was due to restricted emigration, which had left in Ireland 200,000 young men. "We have shown these young men," Mr. Griffith continued, "it was their duty to remain and fight for freedom for which Ireland has made more progress in the last five years than in the previous 100 years. England proposes severe measures, she cannot do worse than she already has done, and what has it availed her?"

Mr. Griffith characterized Premier Lloyd George's refusal to allow Archbishop Mannix, of Australia, to land in Ireland, as fine propaganda for the Sinn Fein, because he said it would enhance interest in the cause in America and in Australia and other British Dominions. "He will get a great reception when he comes," said Mr. Griffith. "But he will be preaching to the converted." At the recent elections it was shown that the people were united regarding the republic.

French Fighter Injured
Montreal.—An injury to Georges Papineau, lightweight champion of France, in the fifth round of his scheduled ten-round bout here, with Fighting Fred Fitzgerald of Australia, brought the bout to an abrupt end. Papineau fell through the ropes and struck his head on the corner of the press table, being rendered unconscious. Up to this time there was little to choose between the two men, both fighting toe to toe for the four rounds.

Joint Reply to the Note from Soviets

Poland Must be Represented in the Proposed Conference

London.—Mr. Lloyd George, before leaving Boulogne, informed the Reuters correspondent that a complete agreement had been reached on all points. It has been decided, subject to Italy's approval, to send a reply to Russia saying that certain things must be made clear before the allies will attend the proposed conference. Poland and other border states must participate in the conference whose primary object is to establish the peace of Europe. Then the conference could discuss the question between Russia and the allies with a view to establishing normal relations.

If the Soviet reply that it could only make peace separately, the conference will fall to the ground, according to Mr. Lloyd George. If the Soviet complies, the conference can meet within a month. The British prime minister added that Premier Millerand had agreed that a good piece of work was done at Boulogne.

Employment Increase

Reports From 5,100 Employers Indicate That Industries Are In Good Shape

Ottawa.—Reports from over 5,100 employers to the Dominion headquarters of the department of labor employment service indicate that, disregarding loss of time due to the strikes, there was another increase in the volume of employment during the week ending June 26. For the following week, however, there was a net decrease in staffs of 140 persons, on two percent. The decline was attributed mainly to the estimated curtailment of operations in the iron and steel group of industries because of a shortage of fuel. In comparison with the returns for six months earlier in the year the firms reporting stated that they had made very considerable additions to the number of persons on their payroll.

Debate Coal Shortage

United States Authorities Will Take Steps to Curb the Coal Profiteer

Washington.—Means of averting winter coal shortages and of defeating profiteering in the coal trade in the United States will be discussed at a conference in New York by representatives of four government departments and a committee from the coal industry. Acting Attorney-General Ames, in announcing the conference said the government hoped to develop a program on which the coal interests could come "half way" in solving the coal problems.

Paris Waiting for Turks

Peace Will be Signed if the Italo-Greek Controversy Is Patched Up

Paris.—If the Turkish delegates are not detained on their journey from Constantinople and arrive in time, it is probable that the peace treaty with Turkey will be signed at Sevres as planned. There is a possibility, however, that Greece may withhold her signature from the treaty because of the controversy between Italy and Greece over the recent Aegean wrangle. The belief is expressed in the French official circles that the Italo-Greek controversy would be settled in time for signing.

The difficulty that loomed largely this evening was the fact that the Turkish delegates had not put in an appearance and that its whereabouts did not appear to be known. The delegation appeared to have left Bucharest on a train that should have brought it to Paris. Nothing has been heard of the Turkish plenipotentiaries, however, since the report of their departure from the Rumanian capital.

New Minister Named
London.—Prince Antoine Bibesco has been appointed Rumanian minister to the United States, according to the London Times.

WELCOME TO EDITORS FROM THE OLD LAND

HERE TO STUDY PROBLEMS

Purpose of Visit is to Learn More About This Dominion

Halifax.—Outlining the problems facing the English-speaking countries of the world and urging the necessity for co-operation between all countries, Lord Burnham addressed a large gathering of publishers and citizens of Halifax and district on the occasion of a civic luncheon tendered the delegates to the Imperial press conference.

Robert Donald expressed the hope that the "moral lapse" of the United States will be temporary and that the United States would yet consent to assume some of the responsibility devolving upon it through its triumphant entry into the war. Viscount Burnham was the chief speaker on behalf of the overseas delegation, and acknowledged formal welcome given the press in Halifax. He reiterated that the purpose of the visitors from beyond the seas, as they affect the world publishers, was to see Canada and learn more of her problems and her people and regarding empire unity.

Several of the delegates spoke in the same vein informally during the Halifax welcome. The afternoon was spent in informal social functions.

Seek Pirate Gold

Ontario Prospectors Leave For the South Seas With Metal-Finding Device

Father Theault, of the same town, passed through this city on their way to the south seas in the hope of finding the hidden pirate treasure on Treasure Island. It is claimed that the trip is being financed by a New York capitalist, whose name has not been disclosed. Final arrangements are to be made when the travellers reach New York.

IRISH MAKE A NEW MOVE FOR PEACE

FOR A DOMINION POLICY

Nationalists Are Joining With the Others in Framing this Policy

Dublin.—Renewed activity is apparent in Irish political circles favoring dominion authority. Many Irishmen of all political faiths are subscribing to the new funds being asked for and asking for Irish self-government.

Nationalists hitherto violently opposed to this course have come round to favor it and have the support of the Freeman's Journal, which in recent months, under a new proprietorship, could not be distinguished from the Sinn Fein organization.

In agreeing to waive the republican claim and accept county operation for Ulster, groups have met both parties and agreed to waive certain agreements so that the settlement can be received, and Sinn Feiners think this will be the best policy. The Irish Journal looks forward sanguinely to an adjustment of the difficulty.

Influential Irishmen, under Lord Dunsaville's leadership, are endeavoring to improve the conditions with the British government, and the Sinn Fein leaders to meet the premier, it is declared.

Powerful influence on the Sinn Fein policy is exercised by the Republican army which numbers more than 20,000, and has been described as occupying towards the Dael Eireann, the same relations as Cromwell's Ironsides, did to the commonwealth parliament.

Protest to Pope

Australians Say Archbishop Mannix Does Not Represent Feeling in Commonwealth

Rome.—Strong remonstrances from Australia on the utterances in the United States of Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix, of Melbourne, have been received by the Vatican. The protests state that the archbishop's assertions do not represent the feeling prevailing in Australia and ask that some public declaration be made in order to protect the loyalty of the large majority of the Australian population.

Bootleggers Rich Haul
Windsor, Ont.—Bootleggers whose identity remains a mystery, are richer to the extent of approximately $48,000 current market value of a big shipment of 65 barrels of grain alcohol shipped from Hiram Walker's Distillery, Walkerville, to the Heintz Canning Company, Leamington, and stolen in transit. Little hope is entertained for its recovery.

Canadians for Mexico
Mexico City.—President De la Huerta received the Canadian agricultural commission with which he conferred concerning a plan to bring 10,000 Canadian farmers to the state of Coahuila.

Canada Takes Steps To Stamp Out The Drug Evil

No Bonus for Industries

Prairies Cannot Hope for Manufacturing Until Population Grows

Quebec.—The twentieth anniversary of Canadian municipalities, in session here went on record as opposing bonuses by municipalities as an inducement to industries to establish plants.

J. D. Saunders, city clerk, of Camrose, Alta., and secretary of the Union of Municipalities, spoke on the recent progress of western municipalities. During his speech he said that until the west has a population commensurate with its vast areas, there is no use of talking of establishing industries. J. N. Bayne, of Saskatchewan, discussing the bonus question, remarked that if firms were not strong enough to stand on their own feet without the aid of bonuses they should not look for help from the municipalities.

Alderman Dickson of Montreal, expressed his opposition to the bonus system. A firm which could not do business without a bonus was not worth much, he stated.

Many Face Starvation

London.—The city of Adana, in Asia Minor, with a population of 70,000 Christians and 10,000 Moslems, is entirely cut off from the outside world by the Turkish nationalists and is on the verge of starvation, according to an official despatch received by the Armenian bureau from Larnaca, Cyprus.

Ottawa.—Efforts of the federal health authorities to stamp out the opium evil in Canada, are meeting with gratifying success, it is announced by the department of health. Dr. J. A. Anyott, assistant medical director, stated, on his return from an extended trip across the Dominion, that he was well pleased with the falling off in the number of drug addicts of this nature. It is also announced that the department has broken up several attempts to form what is known as an opium ring in this country.

It is also intended to put the Opium and Narcotic Drug act, passed at the last session into force on or about September next. Under this act, which constitutes one of Canada's obligations under the Versailles treaty, and which was signed in line with the rest of the nations uniting to stamp out the drug evil, all wholesale druggists, manufacturers or dealers are required to obtain a license to deal in these drugs for which an annual fee is charged. All retail druggists who manufacture narcotic drugs or preparations containing the same, are required to obtain a license also. Economic Use of
Fresh Food Supplies

Householders of the province are at present faced with a difficult situation on account of the high cost of certain food materials. Imported fruit is scarce and is considerably higher this year than usual, and sugar is at present very high and is said to be going higher. The highest of these combined materials is going to make the lower cost of fruit very expensive. Commercial canned fruits and vegetables which usually make a certain proportion of food supplies for all households are likewise very high, and the prospects are that varied table supplies are going to be harder to secure and harder to pay for than they have been even during the past two or three years.

It would seem more necessary than ever to make economic use of home-grown and still fresh summer foods. The crop of wild fruit this year is good and is available to country householders at least. The knowledge of the handling of fruits of all kinds in modern cooking is such that they can be used with very little sugar.

Similar progress has been made in the economical use of fresh vegetable foods and the practice of saving such desirable garden stuff as young beets, peas, beans, corn, cauliflower, etc. is very rapidly on the increase. There are no doubt many people however who still do not make the best use of these supplies in carrying over into winter the benefits to be derived from fresh vegetable foods. Excellent use can be made likewise of the practice of drying in the case of fruits particularly.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture issues two bulletins, one on the home canning of vegetables, fruits and meats and another on the home drying of fruits and vegetables, that may be had by return mail by dropping a line to the Women's Institute Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alta.

Many a Sip Twaxt
Bath and Sickroom

Toronto, July 21.—If a man has obtained liquor by means of a prescription, it is presumed that it is for medicinal purposes, said Chairman J. D. Flavelle, of the Ontario license commissioners here yesterday. That being the case, Chairman Flavelle continued, in a hotel or large boarding-house he would be expected to keep it in his own bedroom. Of course, in a man's own private house he may drink the liquor in any room.

This opinion has a bearing on a case in which Judge Inspector Cannell, at Windsor, is said to have secured a ruling from the license commissioners, as to whether a man who obtained a prescription from a doctor for liquor, could drink the liquor in his own home in any apartment other than the sickroom.

Hydro Electric on Old Man River

It is reported that government surveyors are busy making plans for a big dam on the Old Man river, at Race Horse creek, about 20 miles north-west of Lundbreck. The purpose of the dam is to form a lake with water a hundred feet deep at the dam, for the development of electrical power. If this project goes through, a lake will be formed eight miles long with an average width of four miles. The Race Horse creek will be backed up and it will necessitate the construction of new roads into the district.

The construction of such a lake could make one of the finest summer resorts in the whole mountain range, affording splendid lake fishing. The water from the lake would also meet the needs of a large irrigation district.—Macleod Times.

Fall wheat is being seeded here now. Conditions are ideal for farming. Timothy hay is also being put up. The meadows are showing a good yield.

After living here for several years, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drewry left on Saturday for Vancouver, where they intend making their future home. They will go by way of Seattle for a three weeks' holiday.

C. V. Hodgson and family have moved to Nelson, B. C. They will be missed here, having been residents of this district for a number of years. Mr. Hodgson was an active member of the U. F. A. while Mrs. Hodgson was a faithful worker in the Women's Institute.

Few people who ride in parlor cars realize how stupendous is the system of which the cars are a part. It is the equivalent of a hotel with 260,000 beds and 2900 office desks, at which 26,000,000 guests register every year. It has 8000 negro porters, owns linen worth $2,000,000, and uses $60,000 worth of soap a year.

"You're sure good medicine, Gloss," he said. "Yes, we are getting quite a nice crop of ground cleared, and I look for quite a nice yield this year, both in corn and wheat. Trappin' don't seem to promise much for this winter, though. The noise and clatter of Hallibut's mill seems to be driving the mink and rats across the bay."

"Can't we make him take the mill away from Lee Creek?" asked the girl. "I hate the sound of it. Its noise drowns the song of the birds and its smoke hides the blue of the sky between the trees. What right had he to put that mill there?" "Well, he owns a strip of bush on Totherride," explained McTavish. "It comes right up to Lee Creek. So you see the mill is on Hallibut's own property."

"Oh, look, uncle," cried the girl, "there's some black squirrels crossing the corn stubble, and—see them. I do believe anybody would relish a bit of stewed squirrel. I meant to tell you to shoot one or two for her this mornin', but he was gone before I was up."

"Joe, the setter, broke from the thicket and leaped across the cornfield. All summer he had acted as custodian of the field, and even now the squirrels stood in mortal terror of him, and the crows cussed him in guttural croaks from the tops of tall trees beyond the danger-line."

As the squirrels took to a lone hickory in the centre of the field, Boy McTavish came quickly around the corner of the house. He stood the clumsy hand-made fork he carried up against the lean-to, and mopped his face with his sleeve.

"Whew!" he whistled, "but he's turned out a fine day after all. Never known Juniper summer to hang on so long. Hope it keeps up, dad, and we'll get the corn all husked yet before trappin' time. Suppose we have a bee and a dance at night, same as we did at the wood-hoe? Dichter is goin' to have a loggin'-bee soon."

"Hello, Gloss," he called, catching sight of the girl. "How's this mornin'?"

"Better and hungrier for squirrel," she answered, her eyes on the treed blacks.

She ran into the house and returned with a rifle. She handed him McTavish the powder horn and, bracing her feet, cocked the gun.

"How far?" she asked, throwing it to her shoulder with a practiced hand.

"Sixty yards, anyway," answered Big McTavish.

"Nigher eighty," asserted Boy. "Too far Gloss, you'll miss sure."

A gleam of mischief shown in the gray eyes sighted along the known barrel. Then the rifle cracked, and a black ball detached itself from the hickory and went swinging down in earth in tiny circles. The dog gave a low whine and came bounding forward, the squirrel in his mouth, and allowed Boy to take it from him.

"Right between the eyes," said Boy proudly.

Big McTavish reloaded the rifle and handed it back to Gloss. His face was wrinkled in a grin of mingled surprise and admiration.

"Neither you nor I could do any better, Boy," he said hesitatingly by way of admission.

"The one on the left next," motioned the girl, and the rifle spoke once more.

"Missed nuthin'," cried Boy; "there he comes now."

The second squirrel spun about on the limb a couple of times, then went crashing through the branches.

"As Bill Paisley would say, 'that's remarkable shootin'!" chuckled McTavish. "That distance is well over eighty yards, else I don't know distance."

"Nearer a hundred, I should judge," contended Boy. "She's got all the rest of the McTavish's beat, dad."

"Try another, Gloss," suggested McTavish, placing the cap on the nipple of the rifle with clumsy fingers.

"I thought maybe two would be enough," said the girl.

She took the rifle once again and glanced at Boy.

"Oh, go on, Gloss," he encouraged, "only one more. Fact is, I'm a bit hungry for corned squirrel myself."

"And I'm thinkin' I wouldn't turn up my nose at a plateful of stewed squirrel either," seconded the father.

"All right, just one more shot, then, hit or miss," laughed Gloss. "See that chase two cars and part of his head stickin' up above the knot? I'll take him this time, I guess, though it's no easy shot."

She fired, and the squirrel dropped from the limb. Another whine from Joe proclaimed it a clean kill.

Big McTavish, without so much as a word, took the gun inside. Boy held the animals up by their bushy tails and the girl who was watching him said:

"You ain't carin' much to see the blacks run over since the time you had Tommy for a pet, are you?"

"Well, I don't know as I'm carin' much one way or t'other," he answered slowly. "Tommy was a cute little beggar, but he wasn't really a black. He was a gray squirrel. Greys are gentler and make much better pets than blacks. Tom Peeler one time had a black for a pet, and used him mighty good for two years. But one day that black pretended he wanted Tom to play with him and tickle him as he was used to doing, and it gave him a bad bite. No, the blacks are too cross for pets."

"Boy," said the girl suddenly, "I meant to tell you before—old Injun Noah says tellin' me yesterday that there's a big gray fox who makes his home on the Point. Noah says he's the biggest silver-gray he ever saw. Says he's as big as a timber-wolf. But he is so cunning nobody can get a shot at him."

"Well," smiled the boy, "I guess we needn't go after that feller, and you needn't worry about one little silver-gray. Just you wait awhile and he'll wink my little 'mean."

He winked mysteriously, and Gloss laughed. Then her face grew grave.

"That man Watson was over here this mornin'," Boy said. "You know what he wanted and you know how he'd get it. Well, I guess him and uncle had words. I was hidin' in a bunch of willows at the spring when he was goin' back, and when he passed me he was swearin' at me."

"Was he right toward the trail or going toward Totherride?" asked Boy, his face darkening.

"I watched him cross the creek, and when he got across he rode toward the schoolhouse."

Boy turned away. Then he paused and looked at the girl.

"Boy," she said wistfully, "I wish we didn't have no school in this place. I wish Simpson would go away."

"Why?" he asked quickly.

"Slowly he eyes sank and her bosom heaved as her breath came in quick gasps."

He reached out and caught her, and for the first time in their young lives the girl struggled in his arms. He let her go, and stood back wondering. She looked at him and smiled. Her face was pale, and her long lashes did not conceal a look of dumb entreaty.

"Gloss—" he commenced.

"Boy," she whispered, "we're built for each other, and chance will always be. But the old compin' days are over now. Boy, you mustn't make me—you mustn't hold me like that again. We ain't boy and girl no more."

He bent and picked up the squirrels. When he stood up again she had gone.

"We ain't boy and girl no more," he repeated.

May Have Women V.C.'s

Lady Sydenham Says It Is A Step Forward

English women are delighted at the announcement that the Victoria Cross may in future be awarded to women as well as men, says Lady Sydenham.

"The V. C. is the most coveted of distinctions awarded for brave deeds on the battlefield, and nothing should be done which should impair its value and make it fall into disrepute."

"The V. C. must remain the reward of but a few, like so many decorations which have been distributed broadcast it will become a joke."

"Some women—who those drove ambulances for instance—were in the firing line. If their deeds have been as brave as those of soldiers, if without bias, their claims to the V. C. are judged as good, then it is only fair that they should get it."

A lady was overheard telling others what to do.

"Got to Live by the Sea"

Earl Beatty on Vital Factor of Sea Power

"We came into being by the sea. By the sea we have existed and in the future we have got to live by the sea."

These were Earl Beatty's stirring words in returning thanks at Glasgow for the hospitality of the city.

The navy, he declared, asked for criticism, they were not afraid of criticism, but they asked that it should not be destructive, but constructive.

The task in front of those who administered the navy at the present day was a great one, and he laid down the doctrine that sea power today was an essential for the security and prosperity of the Empire as it ever was.

The navy had been named the "Silent Service" because to say anything was not opportune. But today it was opportune.

The fleet in commission today represented the minimum compatible with superiority and supremacy of the Empire.

There were critics who said we must have ships which could disappear under the surface one minute and be lost in the clouds the next.

He dared say those critics were right, but the time for such ships was not, and he disagreed with the statement that the day of the capital ship had passed.

The capital ship was still the unit on which the sea power of the Empire was built. Nothing had been devised by the critics, outside of a few windy paragraphs in the newspapers to take the place of the capital ships.

There was no reason, added Earl Beatty, why one, joining the service as a boy, should not rise to premier rank.

He urged that the navy must continue to be the connecting link between the Mother Country and the Overseas Dominions, and said that, unless we controlled the seas, we could not control the lines of communication with those Dominions.

Once those lines went, goodbye to the Empire.

Low Production And High Wages

Proportion to Wage Advances

An exchange says: "Higher wages should mean high production; low production and high wages cannot exist together."

The truth of this statement may be questioned because much of our argument is due to the fact that production has not increased in proportion to wage advances.

But the end is not yet. Buildings are not being erected, homes are not being built, railways are not being constructed, and in many parts farmers are unable to assume the risk of food production because they have to pay so much higher wages for so much less work.

All of which goes to prove that "low production and high wages cannot exist together."

Laura Dewey Bridgman, who was deaf and blind, developed her mind in spite of her affliction long before the birth of Helen Keller.

Where Pontius Pilate Religned

Colonel Storrs, Graduate of Cambridge, Is New Governor Of Jerusalem

The office of governor of Jerusalem once occupied by Pontius Pilate, is now held by Col. Ronald Storrs, a graduate of Cambridge University and son of the Dean of Rochester College, England.

His task is one of the administrative ability of any man. Jerusalem is a city of dissensions, where, whatever may come of the future, for the moment, Zionists and Arabs are passionately divided, and to steer a just path between them and induce them to join him on that path is thankless work.

It is to that task, however, that he chiefly devotes himself. Twice a week he has meetings of his favorite pro-Jerusalem society, when French, Italian, British, Americans, Rabbin, Zionists, leaders, commercial men of standing and others who are in any way prominent in the life of the city are brought together and in the course of debate, led to see that they have in common a single citizenship.

His motto as governor is, "unity and friends."

Colonel Storrs was one of the prime movers in the establishment of an independent Arab kingdom. He is 38 years old.

No Present Chance Of Cheaper Food

Prof. G. I. Christie of Purdue University Reviews Agricultural Situation in U. S.

In a statement with regard to the agricultural situation, Prof. G. I. Christie of Purdue University, who is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, says: "The people of the United States are demanding automobiles, musical instruments, jewelry, fine clothes and recreation more than they wish food. These people are willing to pay high prices for such articles that laboring men engaged in the manufacture of these materials may be paid wages two, three and five times as great as the farmer can afford to pay."

"Cheap land and cheap labor have gone," continues Professor Christie, "and as the cost of cheap food has been seen. From now on consumers must pay the price that allows the farmer a fair return for his labor and his investment." A conference of the members of the agricultural staff of Purdue University was held to consider phases of the present agricultural situation. Many reports received from the various counties in the state are alarming and show an unsettled condition.

The statement concludes: "Food is absolutely necessary—more than a hundred millions of people in the United States must be fed, while in addition, many millions in Europe must have food from American farms—people of the cities must realize that farmers must have a fair price for their products. Cheap land and cheap labor have gone, and so the last of cheap food has been seen. From now on consumers must pay a price that will give a fair return for the farmer's labor and also for his investment. Under the conditions, if wheat was worth $2.20 per bushel in 1917, the crop of 1920 should bring not less than $3."

"If corn was worth eighty cents in 1914, the 1920 crop should return $1.75 to $2 per bushel. Prices for other crops, for live stock, dairy and poultry, should be increased accordingly. Food production should be maintained, but this can only be hoped for when farmers are assured of reasonable prices. The situation demands the serious and careful consideration of all the people. The farmer should go ahead and do the best possible under the conditions."

World's Biggest Chinaman

Served Three Years in France in the Chinese Labor Corps

Sergeant Ting-u-Wang is the biggest Chinaman in the world, and one of the earth's tallest men. Wang, who is twenty years old, stands seven and a half feet in his socks, and is built in proportion. He served three years in France as a coolie in the Chinese Labor Corps. Most of the time he acted as escort to the German prisoners as they were moved back from the front lines. He never lost a prisoner, his enormous size and strength striking terror in the hearts of the captives. When peace came Wang hoped to be engaged as a bodyguard to some rich European or American, but no such individual apparently needing his services. He decided to go back to his farm in Manchuria.

Trend of the Times

What Western Cities are Doing in The Building Line

Comparison is a mighty good guide from which to judge the trend of the times. A comparison of the building activities in the Prairie cities point to an optimistic viewpoint and a belief that the present cost of building is not only justified but is not likely to make any rapid decline.

City	1919	1920
Calgary	$1,076,800	$1,245,500
Edmonton	128,775	136,625
Regina	453,760	1,273,650
Winnipeg	475,750	4,190,000

In Winnipeg, building permits for June, as at June 28th were approximately $1,700,000, as against $2,900 for 1919.

A very good percentage of this wonderful increase is for individual homes, of which thousands are being erected.

Approximately 600 houses and 14 schools will be built in Winnipeg in 1920. This is but an indication that is prevalent throughout Western cities of own "your own home" and "build now" idea.

Make it an individual question to settle with yourself. Are you a renter—in a home—a suite? Why not catch that "Build Now" spirit. Own your own home.

All lumber dealers are fully equipped to render every assistance. Every plan—working drawings and every co-operation is being rendered by the lumber dealers for promoting the "Build Now" idea.

Recruiting for Militia

Training Camps to be Established in All Parts of Canada

Reorganization of the militia forces of the Dominion is proceeding satisfactorily at present insofar as the selection of commanding and other officers is concerned, according to officials of the headquarters staff. It is not expected, however, that a great deal will be done in the way of recruiting during September. Then, it is expected, recruiting will get off to good start, in view of the arrangements which have been made to train at local headquarters by city corps and some artillery and machine gun units.

By next summer, when it is fully expected the training camps will be established in all parts of Canada on a pre-war basis, it is believed that the various authorized regiments and other military units, will, without difficulty, be brought up to full strength.

A Land of Opportunity

Canada is a Most Attractive Land to The Immigrant

In an article on Canada as a land of opportunity, the Manchester Guardian points out that never in her history has Canada been a more attractive land to the immigrant with political ideals. "Her growing sense of nationhood, no less than her fresh outlook on her internal problems," the Guardian says, "offers to a man of independent mind and democratic outlook a real hope of shaping things as he would wish in a new country. And above all her needs in importance is that of immigrants of the right stamp, men with the character and the fortitude to settle in a great empty spaces that yield so rich a return to those who will dare and tame them, men who appreciate a country where needless social distinctions go by the board, and where the dignity of labor is more than a phrase."

Soldier Settlement Board Agrees Meet With Good Success In Campaign

Messrs W. F. Scott and Russell Wilson, who have been in the British Isles, acting as a selection committee of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada, have returned to Ottawa. They held 83 sessions—in many parts of Great Britain and Ireland, and a large number of men who wish to settle on farms in Canada appeared before them. The number of individuals that Canada will get as immigrants through their efforts, is 629, and many of them are already in preliminary training on farms in Canada. The work has been suspended for this year. Half of those selected have had experience in farming, and all will be required to spend the prescribed time on Canadian farms before being settled on their own account. The aggregate capital represented by this advance party is approximately a million dollars.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health, trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, there is a simple and relief at hand. It is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills make new blood, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired or depressed, it is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mental Fatigue

Caused by Monotony, Not by the Amount of Brainwork

It is not the exercise of the brain for long hours that causes fatigue, but the monotony of the work, says the Buffalo Express. Almost every judge, lawyer and doctor whose practice has risen to a point where it keeps him busy has found it admirable to cultivate some such hobby as bridge or chess or to turn his mind in leisure hours to reading that is not light and breezy, but that is real exercise for the mind. The essential is that it be something as different as possible from the mental work with which he gains his daily bread. The writer knows a middle-aged man, who, after a long day of severe brain work, finds rest and recreation in spending the evening studying scholastic philosophy.

Most doctors teach that physical exercise will take away the ill effect of overdoing mental work, but Dr. Josefa Lotopolski, a Roumanian practicing in Paris, has just published a book on fatigue in which he sets forth the opposite view, i.e., that physical exercise will increase brain fatigue.

Of course, the real cure for mental fatigue is sleep.

Fatigue comes more quickly to the untrained mind or body. The practiced oarsman or pedestrian does not soon tire, nor does the expert accountant's brain reel, after adding up long columns of figures with an accuracy and speed that rivals that of a machine.

Who has not noticed on returning from a holiday that the work is difficult, that he makes more errors, that he cannot concentrate? It is really that the mind is out of practice.

Kindness to Animals

Careless at the Bottom of Much of the Cruelty Practiced

Kindness to animals is indicative of a human's ability to be kind to his fellow man; and man's kindness to his fellow man comprehends the true expression of the moral laws which alone can save the world. There is no need for such a drive as recently, which seeks to foster the spirit of kindness to the animal world; and yet, unhappily, there is great need for it. Carelessness, rather than brutality, lies at the bottom of much of the cruelty practiced upon the wild beasts and even upon the wild animals which are forced to unwanted tasks for the gain of the man at the point of goad and the lash of whip. The man or woman who is kind to animals will always be found to be charitable to his or her own kind—Buffalo Commercial.

Craze for Big Cities

Quality Often Comes for More Than Quantity

The craze for bigness seems insatiable. In the United States they have been making a great deal about the size of New York and boasted it had surpassed London and is now the largest city in the world.

However the latest census returns show that New York city had in January last a population of 5,621,151, an increase of nearly 18 percent over the figure for 1910, but the American metropolis is still below London's population.

According to the latest census returns, London, England, had a population in 1917 of 6,273,753 or about 600,000 more than New York; other large cities are Paris, with 2,588,999; Chicago, 2,721,000; Tokio, 2,332,000; Berlin, 2,071,000; Vienna, 2,031,000; Petrograd, 1,908,000; Philadelphia, 1,735,000; Moscow, 1,481,000; Constantinople, 1,300,000; Calcutta, 1,222,000; Rio de Janeiro, 1,130,000; Buenos Ayres, 1,026,000; and Peking, 1,000,000.

One wonders how much happier the citizens of these large cities are than they would be if they lived in the smaller cities of the German Empire. We have been too prone to worship the god of bigness; forgetting that "In small measures life may perfect be."

Navy Reduced to Point of Prudence

Earl Beatty, receiving the freedom of Sheffield, said that with the disappearance of the German fleet they were released from the burden of competitive building, but they must bear in mind that the day would come when veteran ships must be replaced, and under the present financial conditions very little would be done. The navy, he said, was now reduced to the lowest limits consistent with prudence.

For Manitoba Highways

Manitoba to Receive Federal Grant of $80,000 for Good Roads

The Manitoba provincial treasury will this year be partly relieved of the burden of providing good roads in Manitoba, according to Hon. Geo. A. Gieseler, minister of public works. Federal legislation which becomes effective provides that the federal government shall give the province a flat grant of $80,000 for construction of roads, and bear the burden of 40 percent of roads constructed. It is stated, however, that the flat grant is included in the percentage quoted. An official request for this assistance will be made by the provincial government in the immediate future.

Under the present provincial legislation the government bears 50 percent of the cost of construction in market roads and sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the cost of construction on provincial highways. In both cases, however, it is required that the roads be gravelled. One of the stipulations on which federal government pays 40 percent of the cost is that the particular road construction work on which this has been paid must be submitted for approval to the federal board set up under the act.

How to Shock Grain

Two General Methods Which Are Followed According to Conditions

As one travels over the country during harvest time, one begins to believe that grain shocking under the present conditions is not as effective as it used to be. This is due probably to two causes. One reason is the shortage of labor, and the other is the use of inexperienced help. There are two general methods of shocking which are common; one is six or eight bundles shock with a cap, in which all the bundles are set as compactly as possible, and the other is the turning of a wheel. The first method is more suitable where the grain is dry at the time of shocking and where rains are expected later. The second method is suitable where grain is somewhat wet at the time of shocking or where there is not a danger of a heavy rain while the grain is in the shock.

Mellinger Says Mexico Misunderstood

Chautauqua Lecturer Presents New Angle on Mexican Situation

That Mexico is not clearly understood, even by the American press, "The Line," and especially so in Canada, is the belief of W. L. Mellinger, lecturer at the Chautauqua on the sixth afternoon.

Mellinger does not hold any brief for Mexicans, but he does make clear, a lot of things that are little understood in this turbulent corner of the south, and which makes one regard with more tolerance the underfed and underpaid peasants of Mexico.

Mellinger has spent many years across the Rio Grande and knows the people of this strife-ridden little country through and through. He has been in intimate contact with practically all the men of affairs in Mexico who have been prominent in the political arena, such as Huerta, Carranza, Villa, etc., men who are well known through their almost daily newspaper mention.

Popular Poet is With Chautauqua

Richard Posey Campbell Called "The Western Riley" to Give Own Readings

The name of Richard Posey Campbell, or "Dick Posey," is fast becoming familiar in the west. His delightful verse reminds one of the great Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, and explains why he is often called "the western Riley." His two volumes of verse, "Just Common Folks" and "A Daughter of the Rogues" have drawn favorable comment from readers throughout the entire country.

At Chautauqua he will present readings from his own works. He is a splendid characterist and makes the people of his own creation live before you.

Rev. Father Beauvoil, of Okotoks, is going to enter a $10,000 action for assault and insult to his personal appearance against C. W. Minne. He says that he can stand being hit on the back with a hand like a hammer, caught by the arm and being asked where he got all the good clothes and why he wasn't wearing his old oil-stained tags; but when he is told as a sort of feeble apology that he looks like Charley Saunders, thereby adding insult to injury, the limit of toleration has been reached and the law must be invoked—Okotoks Review.

New Coat of Arms For the Dominion

OTTAWA, July 27.—The design for the new Canadian Coat of Arms has come to the College of Heralds. The procedure is somewhat involved. After approval by the Canadian Government the design goes to the College of Heralds, where it is possible some minor technical changes may be suggested. Subsequently, formal approval is given by the king-in-council on instructions based on the early marshal, who is head of the College of Heralds. The new coat of arms bears the device "Amari Uqia Ad Mare" (From Sea to Sea). It is taken from the singularly appropriate line in the twenty-second Psalm. "He shall have dominion also from sea to sea." Approval of the coat of arms was the last act of the Borden government.

Bob's obituary but some elient hand started writing. Bob admits being dead as a Socialist advocate, but very much alive every other wise.

The Temperance reformer was justly proud of having converted the biggest drunkard in a Scotch town and induced him—he was the local grave digger—to get up on the platform and testify. This is how he did it: "My friends," he said, "I never thought to stand upon this platform with the prospect on one side of me and town clock on the other side of me. I never thought to tell you that for a whole month I've saved enough to buy me a new oak coffin with brass handles and brass nails. I shall be wanting it."—New York Globe.

The local deposits in Alberta will no doubt some day supply the needs of eastern Canada.
